

Archery

The difference between a compound bow and a recurve bow is that a compound bow is harder to pull back and easier to hold. A recurve is easier to pull back but harder to hold. I like to use a recurve bow.

I learned that there is an arrow called a Flu-Flu arrow. It has lots of strands hanging off it so it flies. A normal arrow just has three big strands coming off it so it flies.

